at the lovely

Wellesley Country Club

Come enjoy our authors, surprise gifts,

Mark your calendars!

Ted Reinstein is best known in New England as a journalist and reporter for Chronicle, Boston's celebrated TV news-magazine. In 2002, he was part of the Chronicle team honored with a prestigious national DuPont-Columbia Broadcast Journalism Award for their coverage of Boston's controversial "Big Dig," the nation's largest-ever public works project. From every corner of New England, he's found the offbeat, the unique, the moving, and the just plain memorable. His first book, A New England Notebook: One Reporter, Six States, Uncommon Stories, was selected by National Geographic Traveler as one of its "Best Picks." His second book was Wicked Pissed: New England's Most Famous Feuds. Ted's newest book, written in collaboration with his wife, former ABC journalist Anne-Marie Dorning, is New England's General Stores: Exploring an American Classic.

Kate McQuade is the author of the story collection Tell Me Who We Were. Her fiction and poetry have appeared in Black Warrior Review, Harvard Review, Memorious, Shenandoah, and Verse Daily, and her nonfiction has appeared in The Lily for Washington Post, LitHub, and TIME Magazine. She was named a 2017 Tennessee Williams Scholar at the Sewanee Writers' Conference and is the recipient of awards and fellowships from the MacDowell Colony, the Ucross Foundation, the Vermont Studio Center, the Virginia Center for the Creative Arts, and Yaddo. Born and raised in Minnesota, she holds degrees from Princeton University and the Bread Loaf School of English and teaches at Phillips Academy, Andover, where she lives with her husband and three children.

PROCEEDS FROM THIS EVENT WILL SUPPORT TWO IMPORTANT CAMPAIGNS:

Honoring Our History: Transforming Unique Collections Highlighting Social Justice

Sustaining the Mind: Scientific Research and Scholarships Fostering Research in Neuroscience and Neurodegenerative Diseases

Greetings from your Board of Vice Presidents!

Boy, what a year we have had so far! And I'm not talking about national politics - our own BNC world has been plenty exciting and eventful.

We continued our 'Lunch With' series with Susan Solomont, and were fascinated by her tales of the life of the wife of the ambassador to Spain. The give and take between her and her husband Alan was charming. We crooned to the tunes of Frank Sinatra, had a delicious lunch at Cafe Landwer, and had a nostalgic trip back to the origins of the Jews of Boston. The Fuller Craft Museum, the Fruitlands Museum, and the Willard House and Clock Museum were welcoming to our group and gave us interesting tours. And we read books of all kinds together, appreciated art and music and poetry, saw films, discussed the events of the world, and played canasta! We collected warm coats, and knit lapghans. Whew!

As you know, BNC is more than just a fun, social time. We have a mission, and that is to support the ideals on which Brandeis was founded. One of those goals is fundraising, and our new campaign, Honoring our History, is to help to make several collections of materials that have been bequeathed to Brandeis available for world-wide research by digitization. You will read more in later pages here, but it is a worthwhile and important endeavor, and we urge you all to support it.

Spring promises to be every bit as busy as the Fall was. Our major fundraiser, the Book and Author Luncheon, will be on April 22nd, and we will be returning to the beautiful and elegant Wellesley Country Club with authors Ted Reinstein and Kate McQuade. Both are outstanding speakers, and have so much to share with us. We will have a raucous time listening to some of the funniest crooners in history, an informational talk on CBD products, a food demonstration with a charming chef, and a talk about Jewish Food, which we all know so well. There are trips to the Christian Science Center, the Danforth Museum, and the MFA's exhibit of women artists of the last 100 years. Details of all programs are in the pages ahead.

As you know, our meetings are open to all, and that is where the 'sausage is made', where we make our plans and decisions. We are always looking for members to join us with their suggestions and ideas. We meet at Temple Beth Avodah, and all are welcome. The remaining meetings this year are:

February 10

April 13

May 11

We look forward to seeing you at all the wonderful things we have planned for the coming year!

HONORING OUR HISTORY

Transforming Unique Collections Highlighting Social Justice

Please support Brandeis National Committee's Honoring our History campaign to highlight unique collections of Jewish, immigrant, and feminist narratives housed in the Brandeis Library. This campaign will provide global electronic access to these materials, ensuring that researchers and students will continue learning from these significant historical perspectives.

Brandeis

BRANDEIS NATIONAL

giving.brandeis.edu/bnc | 781-736-7588

Every year or two, Brandeis University lets the BNC know what its needs are for the coming year. This year, they have requested we put our fundraising efforts behind a project that will help the world share some of the unique material that we are privileged to have in our Special Collections—letters, artifacts, books, and memoirs. These items have been gifted to Brandeis by members of the families of these people – people like Lenny Bruce, Joseph Heller, and many others. The Archives contain many valuable papers and manuscripts that are sought after by scholars around the world. In order to maintain the integrity of and preserve these original works, Brandeis has undertaken the Herculean task of digitizing these items – thus making them available world-wide to scholars and students.

This campaign — Honoring our History — returns us to our roots and asks us to support the Brandeis Library, as we have been doing since our inception. We have been asked to raise $500,000 this year in support of this project.

One of the collections we are highlighting is the Leo Frank Trial Collection. This Collection documents one of the most notorious capital punishment cases in the early twentieth century. Leo Frank was a factory superintendent in Atlanta, Georgia — and a northern Jew. In 1913 a young factory woman was found murdered and Frank was accused and convicted based on circumstantial evidence and influenced by anti-Semitic chants. Leo Frank was sentenced to death, then had his sentence commuted to life in prison. However — to see how the story ends, and to read letters written by Frank and his wife Lucille (a BNC member) — click on this link.

Our Chapter is supporting this Campaign with its fundraising this year but you may also contribute personally to support this worthwhile cause by clicking here.

Museum of Fine Arts "Women Take the Floor" | Wednesday, June 17, 2020 at 10:30am

The entire third floor of the "Art of America's Wing" has "been taken over" by the works of women artists covering the last 100 years. These exhibits challenge the dominant history of American art by covering women artists who did not enjoy the diversity, inclusion and gender equity that exists today. Our tour starts at 10:30 AM and concludes an hour later. Attendees are then welcome to visit other galleries and also have lunch at one of three cafes that do not require reservations.

Cost: $25 members $30 non-members

Thanks to the enthusiasm and involvement of many in our chapter, the community service projects so far this year have been very successful!

For our October 28 Board Meeting, we collected food and personal items for the Newton Food Pantry which was fitting for the time period between Yom Kippur and Thanksgiving. In the thank you letter I received from the Food Pantry, the letter stated that “thanks to friends like you, we are able to provide non-perishable food and personal items to more than 600 Newton residents every month who would otherwise go hungry.” For the December 9 Board Meeting, we collected many coats and jackets which I delivered to Anton’s Cleaners where they were cleaned and then sent to Jordan’s Furniture who distributed them to people in need.

Finally, our ongoing knitting project continues in full swing! We are knitting lapghans for the residents of Hebrew Senior Life and I have already delivered about 12 unique lapghans thanks to our very generous and creative team of knitters! I am collecting more and plan to deliver them in February. In the thank you letter from Hebrew Senior Life, the director wrote “Our special thanks to the Brandeis group for the hand knitted lapghans. Our patients really appreciate having them available to keep them warm and cozy during the winter months.” Let’s continue this mitzvah!

If anyone has ideas for further community service projects, please contact me at sylgoodman24@gmail.com

CBD: What's it all About?

Friday, March 6 ▪ 10am coffee, 10:30 presentation ▪ Women's Studies Research Center

CBD and the endocannabinoid system: Facts, fiction and the role they could play in health

There is a lot of confusion, misinformation, and lack of regulation in the CBD industry. This talk will focus on many of these important issues and look to create an understanding of Cannabidiol (CBD), Full spectrum, Broad Spectrum, and Isolate, and what to look for in good products. Focusing on health, we will discuss dosing, side effects, drug interactions, and benefits. We will look at medical marijuana v. Hemp and discuss the importance of the many cannabinoids, terpenes, flavonoids, and fatty acids in these wonderful plants.

David Peck is an energy efficiency industry consultant by trade. In 2014 he experienced the benefits of CBD and it was life changing. Since then he and his wife have been researching the industry from the farms and the extraction processes to the finished products. They continue to research and explore products, processes, studies and applications. $25 members $30 non-members

Much More Than Comfort: Jewish Foods and American Desires

Friday, May 22 ▪ 10am coffee, 10:30 presentation ▪ Women's Studies Research Center

This talk focuses on the relationship of Jewish food and desire in American society. Although ostensibly much loved, Jewish comfort food represents a complicated part of eternally complex Jewish identities for many American Jews, as well as for non-Jews who might not even be aware that their Jewish neighbors have a "cuisine" beyond bagels and a "schmear." Whether bagels, chicken soup, chopped liver, or noodle puddings, Jewish comfort food is conflictingly known as a cure-all, e.g. "penicillin," for whatever malady afflicts you, and as an anathema, e.g., "artery cloggers," destroying a healthy lifestyle. How did the foods that filled our Bubbes' kitchens with warm aromas and our bellies with love come to be enjoyed mostly on rare occasions? Or, more to the point, what do changing gender roles, desire, and loss have to do with chicken fat? Come, get comfortable, remember, and learn.

Ellen Rovner, PhD, is an educator, culinary anthropologist, and the founder of the Chelsea Gateway Project/Chelsea Jewish Tours. Before earning her Ph.D., Ellen ran a successful catering company and wrote about food for the local press. She has taught about food and culture at Boston University, and has mentored students from Boston and Brandeis Universities, as well as the Chelsea Public Schools.

As the fourth generation of a Jewish family in Chelsea, Ellen is passionate about knowing and celebrating cross-cultural commonalities in our histories as a path toward empowerment and social change. Ellen is a member of Temple Israel Boston, married, a proud mother of four, and a fortunate grandmother to six spectacular grandchildren.

14. NEW GROUP "Swing Time" by Zadie Smith*

Discussion
Wednesday, April 29th , 1pm

Each year, the Freshman class at Brandeis reads a book and the author comes to campus to speak to the class. The university then makes a video of that, including the Q&A from the students. This year the book was Swing Time by New York Times Bestselling author Zadie Smith. It is a contemporary story of the friendship between two "brown girls" and how their lives diverge. "This is a story at once intimate and global, as much about childhood friendship as international aid, as fascinated by the fate of an unemployed single mother as it is by the omnipotence of a world-class singer" The Washington Post. Read the book on your own, then we will get together to watch the video and discuss the book based on questions from the Brandeis faculty. Registration fee is $10 for this one-time group. Meets at the home of Audree Dyson, 35 Pall Mall, E. Walpole.

Facilitator: Audree Dyson beadesigns@comcast.net 508-668-8122
