Hello Everyone!

Thanks to all of you, our Study Groups had a record-breaking season! Most of the groups will continue next fall, but now is the time of year when new groups are created. We need your help to get started on the production of the 2012-13 Study Group Guide.

If there is anything you are specifically interested in seeing offered as a study group, now is the time to let us know! Perhaps you would enjoy participating in or leading a group discussion or favorite activity. Do you have a special interest or craft?

Here are some of the ideas we've heard so far:

- Evening groups - can be a variety of activities
- Movie Group (day/evening)
  - people see films on their own and meet to discuss
- Yoga, Genealogy
- Canasta - we are looking for a facilitator
- Tennis and Golf
- Healthy Cooking, Flower Arranging
- Knitting, Crocheting

Please let us know your thoughts!

Mission Statement

Brandeis National Committee is dedicated to providing philanthropic support to Brandeis University, a distinguished liberal arts and research university founded by the American Jewish community. Its membership is connected to the University through fund raising and through activities that reflect the values on which the University was founded: academic excellence, social justice, nonsectarianism and service to the community.

Please remember to bring your non-perishable food items to all BNC events to help the PV Emergency Food Bank.
The Membership Committee extends a huge thank you to Gayle Brezack, for graciously hosting the March 23rd "Getting To Know You Coffee." Her amazing home was perfect for our lively gathering. Thanks also to all our attendees - we welcome you to Brandeis. Three women joined at the coffee.

Special recognition to the wonderful Membership Committee: Joyce Gordon, Kathleen Witkin, Steffie Altman, Carol Baine, Margie Bold, Suzie Black, Sandy Blum, Marilyn Blynder, Nancy Elkins, Truda Chick, Bruce Galin and Gail Tenn for the memorable afternoon.

Did you know that Brandeis National Committee assigns us a yearly goal for membership? Did you know that last year we met our goal and by achieving it, we received Chapter of the Year Award! Did you know we were named Chapter of the Year for the Western Region? Did you know that we are now within single digits of attaining our goal? Let’s do it again!

Spread the word to friends, relatives, neighbors and husbands about our vibrant Phoenix Chapter and let them know they can take advantage of our current Spring 15 month membership offer at our yearly dues rate.

Special Note To Snowbirds:

This past year many groups were completely filled by November. We suggest signing up from wherever you are in the summer. Watch for the e-blast that will announce that the Guide is online.

Important Announcement for Ballet Participants!

This group needs to get going even before the Guide is published, because tickets must be purchased earlier.

All About Brandeis

Bits & Bites

Brandeis Scientists Win Prestigious Gairdner Prize

Two distinguished Brandeis researchers, whose long-standing collaboration led to pioneering discoveries about the workings of the biological clock and its role in circadian rhythms, were recently awarded the prestigious Canada Gairdner Award, that nation’s foremost international scientific honor. Michael Rosbash, the Peter Gruber Professor of Neuroscience and director of the Brandeis National Center for Behavioral Genomics, and Professor Emeritus of Biology Jeffrey C. Hall were given the award “to recognize and reward the achievements of medical researchers whose work contributes significantly to improving the quality of human life.”

They share the Canada Gairdner Award with Professor Michael W. Young of Rockefeller University in New York. This is the third major award for the trio stemming from their groundbreaking research into circadian rhythms, using the fruit fly Drosophila melanogaster. Last year, they were awarded the Louisa Gross Horwitz Prize from Columbia University. In 2009, the Peter and Patricia Gruber Foundation awarded them its Neuroscience Prize.

Brandeis Awarded Grant for Research in Epilepsy

Brandeis sociology professor Sara Shostak and an epidemiology professor at Columbia University with whom Shostak worked previously were recently awarded a $2 million grant from the National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke to produce data on the psychosocial impact of genetic information on people with epilepsy and their families. Shostak says information in this area is urgently needed because of the many challenges that come along with epilepsy, which, historically, have included severe stigma and discrimination. People with epilepsy report lower rates of marriage and reproduction and reduced health-related quality of life. The two-part project will begin with a survey of individuals and be followed by clinical genetic testing. "The intention of the in-depth interviews is to explore, in much greater depth than can be done in a survey, what genetic information actually means in peoples' lives and how they plan to make use of it," Shostak says.

Heller Ranks in Top 10 Social Policy Schools in New Ratings

The Heller School for Social Policy and Management has been ranked by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top schools in the United States for its teaching and research into social issues and the creation and implementation of policies to address those issues. The just-released rankings place Brandeis ninth in the country. Within hours of the news breaking, expressions of pleasure and pride were pouring into Heller Dean Lisa Lynch’s office from Texas to the Congo. "There's so much pride from folks at Heller and from lots of alums," Lynch said. "It's like, 'Yes! We're getting recognized.' There was a feeling we were a well-kept secret." As a practical matter, she said, "This is very helpful for us with graduate students coming from outside the country, and also with [research] sponsoring agencies. It gives us a stamp. " The U.S. News ranking is of graduate schools that focus on research and professional training for people trying to improve the lives of children, the elderly, minority groups and disadvantaged populations. "This has been the mission of the Heller School for more than 50 years," Lynch said.

Posse Foundation Initiative to Send High School Student to Brandeis

Deborah Bial, Brandeis Class of 1987, founded The Posse Foundation, a program that has sent 4,223 urban public high school students to college in multicultural teams of 10 students, called Posses. The program piloted its first "STEM Posse" (science, technology, engineering and math) at Brandeis in 2008. President Obama recently recognized STEM at the second White House Science Fair. Students from across the country included Posse Scholar Steven Colon, currently a senior attending high school in the Bronx, New York. Steven was recently awarded the Posse Scholarship to enroll at Brandeis University this fall as a member of the university’s fifth STEM Posse. Posse students have a college graduation rate of 90 percent. Bial, Posse's president, says, "With its partner colleges and universities, Posse continues to help create a new and diverse network of leaders in the workforce, and we are committed to supporting the education and development of students in the STEM fields."

Book Fund

The mission of the National Women's Committee is to provide outstanding libraries for Brandeis University. Last month we featured the newly designed cards which can be sent for happy or sad occasions. This month we are featuring the various LEARNED RESEARCH JOURNALS which are available.

The LEARNED RESEARCH JOURNAL provides scholarly publications which are indispensable resources for serious study. This can be sent for a $36.50 donation.

The LEARNED RESEARCH JOURNAL FOLIO provides reference materials for the Gerstenzang Science Library. These Journals are indispensable to researchers in our laboratories where Brandeis scientists are working to uncover the secrets to life-threatening diseases. This can be sent for a donation of $56.50.

The BRANDEIS SPECIAL BOOK COLLECTION or THE SPECIAL BOOK COLLECTION IN JUDAICA enrich our Libraries with research materials for graduate and undergraduate studies. This gift will perpetuate the Universities renown for research and academic excellence. One of these journals can be sent for a $100 donation.

Each album contains a facsimile of the book plate that will be placed in each journal listing the name of the donor and recipient.

Please call our Book Fund Chair-Marianne Silberman, 480-314-1971 for your Book Fund needs.

Study With The Best

Study with the Best is a study group we offer every year. It generally meets once a month from January to March. The theme of this group is that it uses Brandeis-authored materials. Here are some of the topics that have study guides available:

- On Broadway
- Law and Society
- Shakespeare
- The Detective Novel
- Literature and Short Stories
- Women’s Studies
- Film Studies
- Poetry
- The Jewish Experience
- Pop Culture

A listing of available study guides written by Brandeis faculty exclusively for members of the Brandeis National Committee, for use in chapter study groups, can be viewed at http://www.brandeis.edu/bnc/programming/swtb.html

This group needs a facilitator(s) to review the available resources and choose some topics for discussion. It’s fun and the work is all done for you in these guides!
